Product description:

Get creative and enhance your production value with this portable lighting kit, suitable for portrait photography and interview lighting.

The kit includes two CineTUBE HUE 120 cm and two CineTUBE HUE 60 cm that employ the full RGB color gamut LEDs to deliver millions of rich and vibrant colors. Each LED tube is battery powered for a quick setup and can be used as a fill light directly on a subject, as an accent light or design element on set.

This mixed lighting kit would be much appreciated by photographers and videographers who seek compact and versatile lighting instruments to use on locations where the AC power source is limited or unavailable.

The kit comes with a rugged, hard-shell travel case, suitable for airline travel. The custom foam interior holds all the components safely in place for convenient storage and carrying.
